The Cantata "Ruth" given at the Christian Church Sunday evening was a musical event of the season. The following were the soloists: Mabel Richardson, soprano; Fern McClelland, contralto; and Wm. Bridges, bass. Dr. O. J. Miller was the director and deserves much credit for its success.

They Said It Would Ruin the Country—But It Didn't

Before most of us were born "they said" if the slaves were freed, it would ruin the country—but it didn t. If we resumed specie payment "they said" it would ruin the country—but it didn't. If we went to war across the water, it would ruin the country—but it didn't. And finally when the soldiers were demobilized—it would ruin the country, but it isn't, and now comes the anti-prohibitionist who says prohibition will ruin the country—but it won't. For a few months many of the fellows who have laid by a goodly supply will carry a bit of a jag until the supply laid by is exhausted; many old time booze fighters will be found in the jag cure shops; fake light drinks will be sold that have enough "kick" to cripple a mule until they learn Uncle Sam is in earnest, then they will stop with a six months' sentence hanging over them, but the good old world will wag along just the same, booze or no booze and the habitual booze fighter will have acquired another way to assuage his alcoholic thirst. Business will readjust itself almost at once, and there will be no great cataclasm in business or elsewhere.

The pay of Chicago police and firemen is now the highest in the world, $1,800, and the lowest grade city hall clerk gets $1,500 This is an increase of about $300 a year voted by the city council Monday night. The men wanted $2,000 and $1,800 respectively.

There has been several clashes between colored and white people in the Garfield Blvd. district near State St. lately, and just north of the boulevard it looks like a state of siege in the evenings. It is claimed that white girls are insulted when walking on the boulevard, and a mob has driven the colored men off of that district.

Privileges for Political Reasons

There would be much less dissatisfaction of tax payers if they did not know that certain privileges are granted to political favorites that the rest of the people must make up in over taxation. There is scarce a block in the town in which some "favored son" has not received the benefit of a lowered assessment on his real estate and very few of them pay any personal tax. The same extends to water rates where many apartment buildings are allowed to pay the merely nominal sum assessed for frontage and single residence charges, while the property next door is compelled to pay 62½c 1,000 cubic feet as measured by the city meter which is installed whether the owner likes it or not. Then any one with any favored city hall connection evades his city vehicle tax, and although a complete record is kept of every state license issued, not half of these pay a city license. So it is down the line until the honest tax payer becomes disgusted, as he knows he is not only paying his own share, but those of the slick fellows who have "pull" enough to keep them off the lists. All talk of a new constitution and more laws is mere "bunk" so long as the laws are not equitably enforced. If the taxes were levied honestly, each paying his share, they would be comparatively low, but as it is the "slacker" gets off with little or nothing, and the decent citizen must pay greatly increased amounts.

Efficiency of Advertising

Advertising also works for efficiency because it draws in trade from the surrounding country and year by year, it's enabling the business of a place to be conducted on a bigger scale. A non-advertising town gets very little outlying country business. People prefer to go a greater distance to places that show more enterprise.

When new business is drawn in from the surrounding country, and the trade volume is thereby increased, the stores can buy in larger lots at lower prices. The expense charge for each article sold is reduced.

This advertisement tends to locate a community of active, enterprising, wide awake stores, that do business enough and turn their capital fast enough so that their service is performed on an economical basis.

This point of view is explained by the fact that in any lively and go-ahead town, there is always a large group of merchants who are liberal advertisers and who get the best trade of the community and near by country.

Somewhat Mercenary.

Bob was to have a birthday party. His best friend, Dick, met him in town the day before. "Say kid," he asked, "what do you want me to bring you?" Bob, who was saving for a bicycle, replied: "If it's all the same to you, Dick, I'd rather you'd give me the money." The following day as Bob's mother received the little guests, Dick presented 25 cents, saying: "Mrs. G., Bob said he'd rather have the money."

Ogden Park News

A "Sane Fourth" At the Park

Owing to the fact that other nearby parks and centers are having big celebrations on the Fourth, no attempt has been made to duplicate the band or speech making features. Athletic features will be the order of the day at Ogden, with a tennis tournament morning and afternoon in the men's gym, with races and baseball games both in the gym and on the ball diamonds. There will also be special apparatus work and games. The women's gym will be open all day. The clay and lawn tennis courts, and the boats in the Ogden Park lagoon will all "carry on" as usual. It is apparent that those who are in the park on the Glorious Fourth will not fail to have a good time.

Summer Schedule Opens

On Saturday of last week, the rest of the summer force were on hand to complete the summer schedule. The gymnasiums are now open all day seven days in the week, and the swimming pool, the second largest in South Parks, is open every day except Wednesday, which is clean-up day. The pool is also cleaned and changed on Sunday nights, ready for the morning swim. Girls' days are Monday and Thursday. The pool opens at 10 A. M. These hot July days, the Ogden Park Swimming Pool is helping lots of people forget how hot it is (outside the pool).

Swimming Seasons Open Last Week

Ogden Park swimming tank opened last week, Thursday, to the great joy of young and old in this vicinity, although the weather since then has not made swimming quite so much of a necessity as it will soon be. The hours for use are as mentioned above. There are three life guards on duty all the time and the pool is changed twice a week. The schedule is as follows:

Girls and women: Monday and Thursday.

Men and boys: Tuesday, Friday and Saturday; Sunday till 2.

The pool is not open on Wednesday, nor on Sunday after the 2 o'clock swim, as the pool is emptied and cleaned at these times. In the evening the pool is open only to adults or to minors who are working all day, it being assumed that boys and girls who are not working can have plenty of chance in the daytime, leaving the pool to the men and women at night.

Boating, Baseball, Tennis and Track In Full Swing

Summer athletics is all the vogue at Ogden Park these days. Tennis rackets are in evidence all day long, while the baseball diamonds are full to overflowing in the late afternoon and evening. On the track in the men's outdoor gym may be seen athletes training for the runs and jumps. The boats are popular after supper, especialy among "the younger set." There are good times for everybody these days, the amusements ranging from baseball to reading in the library. The Hall has been filled with recitals and commencements each night, with rehearsals in the afternoons. There is something on all the time.

Vacation Books at Ogden Park Library

From June 1st to September 1st vacation cards are issued entitling anyone to draw ten books and to keep them for ten weeks, five of which may be fiction. The list is very long and a very good one; space alone prevents us from publishing it entire, but you may see a copy at the library at the Park.

Recognized the Symptoms

Little Mary had been sick and had her temperature taken with the thermometer several times. Shortly after, when out walking with her mother, she saw a man testing his tires with a little pressure gauge. Turning to her mother, she exclaimed: "Oh, look, mother! that poor tire must be sick, because the man's taking its temperature."

INVEST YOUR MONEY WISELY

6% The safest forms of investments have always been real estate mortgages secured by farm land. This is proved by the fact that the life insurance companies—the largest investors in the world—prefer farm loans over any other form of security. Producing farm land is better security than city realty. The principal value of city property rests in improvements which sooner or later become antiquated or unsuited to the needs of a changing neighborhood. The unforseen influx of undesirable neighbors adversely affects the value of city real estate. Farm land is free from both of these menaces, for every year shows a steady advance in the average value of farm property. It is this constantly increasing security which makes farm mortgages so desirable. For years we have been making farm mortgages and selling them to conservative investors in Chicago. We collect interest and principal without charges. That we have succeeded in building up a reputation for care and conservatism is apparent from the fact that we now have several hundred customers in Chicago and others in over 30 states.

Send for our Illustrated Booklet describing these safe investments.

A Message to Women

The times have brought new and trying housekeeping problems to you—problems that have become intensified by the difficulty of securing competent domestic help.

It has accordingly devolved upon you, as upon other modern women, to be mistress of many things. While acting as mother and business manager in the home, you must also give ear nowadays to appeals of the community for welfare work and social service.

You have larger responsibilities and more to do, with less time in which to do it—a condition which prompts us to invite your attention again to the family service our laundry offers.

We can assume for you the burden of the family washing.

We are well qualified to take over this duty. Our laundering methods have become perfected to a degree that even the most competent of laundresses cannot excel. Practices like boiling and bleaching, for example, have been replaced by us with the improved method of sousing and rinsing in water of velvety softness and suds of pure white soap.

If you seek leisure for more devotion to the interests of your children, or time for many of the other bigger things in life, could anything be simpler than to pack your washday troubles in a laundry bag and send them to us?

Or could anything be more satisfying than to have your washing come back to you at a definite time each week. . . .

Ours is a modern laundry that can give you such service—a laundry in which you will find men and women who are courteous, accommodating and desirous of extending you that washday help for which you have been waiting.

Meet your multiplied housekeeping problems in the modern way—send us your family washing. A telephone call will bring our driver.

RAILWAY RATES TO BE ADVANCED

Public Treasury Will Be Relieved of Burden of Meeting Deficits in Earnings.

EDITORS' POLL IN CONGRESS.

Heavy Vote for Return of Roads Arouses Interest at the National Capital.

Washington.—The national poll on the railroad question by 6,000 newspaper editors throughout the country has aroused great interest at the national capital. With 88 per cent. of the editors giving it as their impartial opinion that the public favors an early return of the railroads to their owners and only 11 per cent favoring Government ownership or operation, the members of Congress of both political parties propose to provide speedily for the legislation to make it possible to restore the roads to private management before the end of the year.

In Congress there is a general agreement that the following steps will have to be taken before the roads are returned to their owners

1. An advance in rates to meet the greatly increased cost of labor and materials in order that the Public Treasury may be relieved of the burden of meeting monthly deficits and the roads made self supporting. The Director General of Railroads states that the increase in rates thus far is about 25 per cent, as compared with an increase in operating costs of from 50 to 90 per cent.

2. Greater nationalization of public control of transportation—a single public control in the Federal Government in place of 49 masters in the different States, with conflicting laws and regulations.

3. Legalization of consolidations and common use of lines and facilities whenever in the public interest.

4. Assurance through an act of Congress that in the future the Government will approve of rates for freight and passengers that will not only be fair to the public, but fair to the roads, and that will yield a sufficient income on capital to attract the $750,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 of new capital needed every year for the expansion of railroad facilities

How the States voted in the national poll of editors on the question of the return of the railroads to private management is shown by the following chart. That the railroad question is a non-partisan issue is plain from a study of the table:

The Harvard Theater comes this week with seven days of unusual attractions, and their regular summer ventilation and artificially cooled auditorium does not exceed 72 degrees so that one may enjoy the plays and "cool off" at the same time.

Saturday, July 5th, Charlie Chaplin, in his third million dollar comedy "Sunnyside." His latest and most artistic comedy. A screaming burlesque on farm life. The great comedian in his latest offering presents a real comedy in the best sense, for there is a thread of pathos running through the story. See Charles as a hired man in chauffering cows, mowing the floors and entertaining Woodland Nymphs. See Chaplin's newest comedy contrasted with his first screen comedy he appeared in seven years ago when he earned $3.50 per day. Also America's greatest character actor, Frank Keenan, in his latest dramatic masterpiece "Gates of Brass." "Some there be that sit in darkness, their heads bound in iron and their souls in prison behind gates of brass!" In such plight was J. Hatfield Blake, millionaire, oil operator, land manipulator, ex-shell game expert of the county fair grounds. One day the gates of brass opened wide their portals and Jim Blake's soul sought sanctuary in the great beyond. Also matinee only, Antonio Moreno in the thrilling story "Perils of Thunder Mountain."

Sunday, July 6th, Thos. Ince presents beautiful Dorothy Dalton in a gripping society story, "Other Men's Wives." The crowd of social parasites she chummed with thought that she was so badly "broke" that they could use her for a cat's paw, but they found that she could scratch the wrong way. Even the man she loved—but don't let's spoil the story. Come to see it. Won't you? Also latest Pathe News, a 2-part comedy and matinee only the serial supreme "The Red Glove."

ELSIE FERGUSON

Monday and Tuesday, July 7th and 8th, Elsie Ferguson in "The Avalanche." Her gambling debts pile upon her! Holders of her I. O. U.'s make her life a torture! Ruin stares her in the face when her mother makes a supreme sacrifice to save her. A mighty story of daughters' follies and mothers' hearts. For you.

Wednesday, July 9th, the story of a missing girl "My Little Sister," with Evelyn Nesbit playing the title role. She is lost—lost forever. The police cannot or will not find her. She was last seen dancing for drunken men in a house where the windows were barred with iron. Where is she now? Is there no power to help? No more heart-gripping photoplay, no more vital message, has been thrown upon the screen. A startling exposure of the white slave evil, revealing martyrdom on the altar of vice.

Thursday, July 10th, one day only. Blanche Sweet in "The Unpardonable Sin." In no sense is "The Unpardonable Sin" a preachment. It is an absorbing tale of love and adventure, with incidents of the World War as a background. And yet, those seriously inclined, will find from the manner in which the action is presented, much of a philosophical nature to interest them. "The Unpardonable Sin" is the greatest photoplay ever produced, and there is no denial of the statement that it ranks with such attractions as "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance" and "Hearts of the World," all of which are outstanding successes in the realm of moving pictures. In support of Miss Sweet, Mr. Garson has assembled a cast of unusual strength, prominent among whom are Matt Moore and Wallace Beery.

Another great romance by the creator of "The Birth of a Nation," "Hearts of the World" and "Broken Blossoms." A picture of smiles, tears and human appeal that goes straight to your heart, with the brilliant Griffith cast. Lillian Gish, Robt. Harron, Clarine Seymour and George Fawcett. Here is the latest of those wonderful dramas woven around the lives of plain people with which D. W. Griffith has thrilled all America. "True Heart Susie," Lillian Gish, is the photoplay of a girl who gave everything she had but life to make the boy she loved into a man she could respect. Useless Contention.

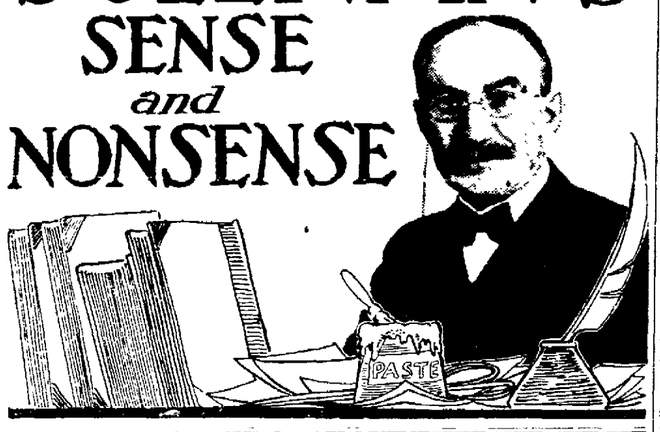
Sooner or later one is measured with the rule that is straight and true. There is one thing that we all find hard to learn, but once learned life is very much simpler and easier to live—contention does not help matters of any kind. Constant aggressiveness, frequent complaining, daily defending of one's position wears away patience and places one in an atmosphere of antagonism which invariably reacts.

SULLIVAN'S SENSE and NONSENSE



Lady, lady, that we meet
Hobbling down the bumpy street,
Why are frocks, we'd like to know,
Low above and high below?
Lady, lady, fond and fair!
Why the variegated hair?
Pointed toes and dizzy heels?
Big cape that your waist conceals?
Tell us, lady, queen of grace,
Perfect form and perfect face,
Why your beauty mask with paint,
Just the same as them as ain't?

There are more sober persons in the U. S. A. today than for many moons.

Just remember that the parks and forest preserves are free to everyone and enjoy your vacation on your own home grounds.

Yes, I'm out strong for Governor Lowden for President. He has promised me the ambassadorship to Ireland or Dahomey in the event of his election.

When it was suggested to turn the breweries into pickle factories, the wife of my bosom, suggested that that has been their occupation "pickling" men for many years.

What a shame! The park board has wired off the bathers from the grandstand and the paraders cannot display their shapely shapes in bathing costume along the beach.

They both professed to be interested in science, and they were discussing their favorite topic at the club one night. "The practice of medicine has certainly changed," remarked the older man. "When I was young the doctors used to bleed their patients." "Huh! I don't see that they have changed in that respect" replied his friend skeptically.

His friends at home may not believe it, but the fact is that when Dr. Phillips is away from home he puts on a whole lot of swagger airs that are foreign to his actions here. He stopped at a small hotel up in Michigan last month and, finishing a more or less satisfactory dinner, leaned back in his chair with affected negligence and ordered: "Please bring me a demi-tasse." The waiter stared. "What's that?" he asked. "A small cup of coffee," Dr. Phillips explained. "A small cup of black coffee; see that its good coffee, please. Demi-tasse means half a cup." "Aw, g'wan," said the waiter, "I ain't a-goin' to bring you no half-cup. We don't sell nothin' less than 5 cents here."

The following story is told of two famous actors, E. A. Sothern and Edwin Booth, in illustration of their self-confessed limitations. Sothern told Booth that he had once believed that he was possessed of tragic genius and had acted the part of Claude Melnotte. "My performance," Sothern said, "was thus characterized by a caustic critic: 'It exhibited all the qualities of a poker except its occasional warmth.' It was, I suppose, about as bad as anything ever seen upon the stage." Booth chuckled quietly for a minute and then, with a quizzical smile, simply remarked: "You never saw my Romeo, did you?"

At the corner of Halsted and 63rd Sts. one day this week two ladies, evidently deaf and dumb, were waitting for a car and carried on a conversation in the mute way by the use of their fingers. Two little newsboys watched them intently for a while, until one of the ladies held up two fingers extended when one of the boys said: "Gee, Jimmy, she wants the other one to go swimmin'."

Charley Homann, the expressman opposite the Wabash, is a Justice o the Peace out in his village, and wa called on yesterday for the first time to marry a couple. They had telephoned they were coming and Charley looked up all the forms he knew of and finally adopted one from an almanac which insisted that the presiding official mu t kiss the bride. Charley chuckled over this part and put an extra shine on his farm brogans for the occasion. The couple came and Charley tells no more about it, but a neighbor insists the bride was a nice fat juicy colored lady of uncertain age, and Charley had to remit the fee to escape the osculatory part of the ceremony.

It will undoubtedly surprise most of my readers, still I feel that I should make the revelation that newspaper men may, can and do lie under certain circumstances, and when they do, it is no prevarication, or a genteel fib, but the real thing, a work of art, in fact a big fat lie or none at all. That is why I got into trouble and escaped this week. A certain very well read man, whose head is as full of queer ideas and fanatical extravagances as one head well can be, has been bombarding me with a lot of his stuff that he wanted published. I had made excuses by mail, and by proxy, but he made a personal call Wednesday and caught me at my desk. Recognizing him, I told him Mr. Sullivan had left the city, and undoubtedly he would be glad to publish this matter when he returned, but just now he was in Asia and headed for Thibet, and would be back in a year or two, etc., etc., and so forth. Upon inquiry I told him I was the under hostler of the job, and could'nt take it upon myself to run such important matter without Mr. Sullivan's knowledge. And what do you suppose the man with bats in his belfry did? He started in and told me that he knew Sullivan well, in fact they were old friends, drank from the same trough, or words to that effect, and that Sullivan told him to bring in the "copy" and it would be published. He out-lied me so completely that I couldn't identify myself for a postage stamp, and the only reason that the readers are not inflicted with his ravings is that I am sending the matter on to submit it to President Wilson, as too important to be given to the world without the government's knowledge. I am wondering if it wouldn't have been easier to tell the truth.

Of Course We Are All Honest, But—?

It is our rule to insist upon payment in advance of all advertisements in our classified columns, but personal appeals by telephone and mail, innumerable and very plausible excuses have caused us to violate it, and since the first of the year we find just $64.35 due us from these friends who "will send the money right away." We have been to the expense of bookkeeping amounts from 25c to $1.50, have had to make entries, confused our system, and suffered this loss, just to be "a good fellow." We cannot afford to keep books in this department and henceforth this rule will be enforced indiscriminately, and in the meantime if any who know they owe us these small amounts feel like mailing it to us, we are in a receptive mood right now.

The period of Antwerp's great rise to commercial prosperity was also that of the city's chief artistic production. The names of Quentin Matsys and of Rubens are specially connected with the city, for Rubens was essentially an Antwerp man, although he was not, like Teniers and elder, and Van Dyke, a native of the place.
